Arthritis afflicts millions of Americans, especially those in their 30's, 40's and older. There is no medication known to be effective in curing this crippling disease.

Arthritis patients are often told to take it easy, don't use those painful pills and take pain pills for relief from arthritis pain. Often, arthritis affects active, hard-working people. It may be caused by injuries sustained years previously.

There is no easy cure for arthritis but chiropractic adjustments have been found to be effective in many cases. Make an appointment for a chiropractic examination today.

MLK activities get under way

Programs scheduled to honor slain civil rights leader

ALTON — A week of activities to celebrate the birth of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. began Monday with a prayer breakfast.

The civil rights leader and founder of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was born Jan. 15, 1929, and was gunned down by Alton native James Earl Ray in Memphis, Tenn., in 1968.

The prayer breakfast, sponsored by the Lovejoy School Reunion Alumni Association Scholarship Committee, was held at the Holiday Inn at 2800 E. Homer Adams Parkway. Guest speaker was Cleveland Hammonds, superintendent of St. Louis Public Schools and a graduate of Lovejoy School, which used to stand on Union Street.

Proceeds will help finance a $500 college scholarship that the group awards annually.

"We're very excited to be having this," association member June McElmore said. "We want to encourage our youth, so our theme is 'Youth Crossing the Bridge to the 21st Century.'"

Other celebrations to honor

King follow:

James Gray, president of the Alton branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will be one of several speakers at a program called Save Our Children to be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 19, at the Greater St. James Baptist Church, 2016 Belle St.

The free program will feature music, spiritual songs and a speech by James Buford, president of the Greater St. Louis Metropolitan Urban League since 1988. Gray said he chose to focus on children in the program because drug abuse, gang violence and teen-age pregnancy are issues King would probably be working on today if he were alive.

would probably be turning a lot of his attention to these problems, since that is what we are so worried about now," he said. "If people keep going on that track, we'll have a lost generation, and we have to turn that around."

A series of one-hour programs Jan. 20-23 at Hayner Public Library will recreate King's life and explore the African-American experience in the United States.

The four-day free film festival will be held in the Metzger Conference Room at the Hayner Memorial Building, 401 State St. Videos will be shown at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

For more information, phone 462-0852.

Television and radio commentator Tony Brown, who once coordinated a Detroit march with King, will be the keynote speaker at a luncheon at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday in Meridian Hall at the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Brown wrote "Black Lies, White Lies: The Truth." Tickets are $8 for students and $10 for the general public. For reservations, call 692-2660. "Let Freedom Ring" is the anthem for this year's musical celebration at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Open Door Fellowship at 925 Millner Ave.

Girls' basketball coach seeks leave

By Bob State
Staff writer

For the second time in a month, Granite City High School varsity girls basketball coach Chuck Kraus is under fire.

Kraus was suspended by the board of education for three games last month after a shouting incident during a Dec. 13 game. Kraus later admitted using profanity during the tirade.

Assistant coach John Moad replaced Kraus during the suspension.

Last Tuesday, when Kraus met with the team behind closed doors to apologize for the incident, more turmoil erupted.

After Kraus' apology, one team member remarked that the team had played better under Moad, witnesses said.

Witnesses do not agree on exactly what occurred next. Some girls on the team said Kraus "tossed" a ball, underhanded, toward the girl and said, "If you want coach Moad, you can have coach Moad. I'll quit."

But others said Kraus threw the ball at the player — similar to a two-hand chest pass — too hard to be called a "toss."

All witnesses agree the ball struck the player on the arm. The Granite City School Board was to take some action regarding the incident at its regular meeting last night, Tuesday.

Kraus, who is also a teacher and assistant football coach, has requested a temporary leave of absence from his basketball coaching responsibilities, according to the meeting's agenda.

School Superintendent Steve Balen said Monday he expected the request would be granted.

Board President Jeff Parker declined to comment on Monday.

Both Parker and GCHS Athletic Director Jerry McKechnan had previously characterized the first incident as "isolated."

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Looking for a good gardening-related activity? Lots of us are, but until the weather starts to cooperate, we don't have much to offer. But we never run out of ideas, at least we try not to. And here's one that's worth considering.

Gather up your garden tools. All of them, rakes, shovels, trowel, hoe, the whole works. Take 'em inside, into the workshop if you have one, since it's a little warmer. And give each one a good examination. In January? Why not?

This is a great time of year to do this for several reasons. First, you're not going to be using the tools for a while anyway, so if you find one that's in need of refurbishing, there's no panic to do a hurry-up job. Second, here's the gardening-related activity you've been looking for. Third, you'll have all your tools in tip-top condition when they're finally pressed into service and you won't be dealt any surprises. Fourth... well, three isn't bad.

If you find a tool that just won't get through another year, make note of it. We'll let you know when the tools start arriving at Frank's. And by shopping when they first arrive, you'll have the pick of the crop.

What sort of thing needs checking on garden tools? Looseness, for one. Make sure all your shovels and rakes don't have any loose or broken parts that could cause you problems. Tighten each one if possible. And they probably all could stand some cleaning.

Check the condition of the wooden handles, and correct any problems. All this will pay off in a big way come spring.

How about the lawn mower? Was it acting a little balky, sluggish or misbehaving in some other way? Find a good lawn mower shop and take it in for an overhaul. And you certainly won't need to tell the guy to hurry.

Vary Your Route
You've probably heard that it's best to avoid walking across your lawn in winter. Trouble is, we can't always adhere to that advice. It's sort of like telling someone to avoid driving in the rain. So, if you absolutely must walk across the lawn, try not to use the same path time after time, since it will have a tendency to wear it down. Alter your route each time and you shouldn't have a problem.

Rock salt is an excellent ice- and snow-melter, but if lawns and shrubs are nearby, you may want to try a product that's safe for vegetation. Rock salt can harm plants.

Crafts Galore
Craft hobbies are excellent winter pastimes, and Frank's stores won't leave you disappointed. From dollhouse building to painting to creating dozens of fun and fascinating projects, you'll find the perfect way to spend the winter months.

Frank's has a brand new lineup of exciting creative craft projects for 1997, and the instruction sheets are all in the stores. They're written by our staff of craft experts, are easy to follow and contain full-color photographs of the finished projects. We're sure you're going to like them.

We'll go through the stack and pick out a few to print in some upcoming columns, so stay tuned.

Low income counseling set

InnerAction Ltd., a counseling agency in Edwardsville, is offering 45-minute counseling sessions to low income individuals and families without insurance for $5 per session.

Dr. Linda Canessa, director of InnerAction, Ltd., is concerned that the stress and violence in everyday life is leading to an increase in individual problems.

InnerAction would like to help those who are in need of help but are unable to seek counseling because of the cost of these services is often so prohibitive that many people cannot afford to take care of their emotional needs. The InnerAction program will provide affordable counseling for anyone who has not been able to participate in counseling.

The $5 charge will be donated to the Glen/Ed Food Pantry to help other individuals and families in need. Contact InnerAction at 656-2402, for an appointment or for further information.

You asked...so we delivered.

At Memorial Maternity Center, we strive to meet your needs. We asked our patients what was important to them.

As a result, we've added some childbirth education classes as well as changed some existing ones to meet your needs. Our childbirth education classes will help you prepare for a birth experience that will meet your expectations!

Prepared Childbirth Class

This class provides eight hours of in-depth preparation for labor and birth, including breathing and relaxation exercises. Options for you and your baby's care at Memorial Maternity Center will be shared to help make your birth a personalized and positive experience. Participants are encouraged to register before the fifth month of pregnancy and attendance is limited to those delivering at Memorial. There is a $25 per couple fee. Call 257-5855 for class dates and times.

Childbirth Refresher Class

The Childbirth Refresher Class is designed to give experienced parents updated information about the latest trends in labor, delivery and newborn care. Limited to those who will deliver at Memorial, this class is held from 7 to 9 p.m. on the first Monday of the month. $5 per couple fee. For more information, call 257-5855.

Vaginal Birth After Cesarean (VBAC) Class

This class addresses questions about vaginal births after cesarean (VBAC) and why VBAC's can be safer than repeat cesarean deliveries for both mother and baby. You also will learn how to maximize your chances of having a vaginal birth. Class meets 7-9 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of the month. It is free to those attending Prepared Childbirth or Refresher Classes (we strongly recommend attending these as well) or $5 fee per couple if not taking these classes. Call 257-5855 to register.

Baby Care and Parenting Classes

This two-session program teaches you how to care for, play with and protect your infant from birth to age 12 months. Topics presented include: newborn care, infant feeding, baby bathing, when to call the doctor, home and toy safety, returning to work, finding a good babysitter and traveling with baby. Held from 7 to 9 p.m. on the third and fourth Wednesday of every month, this class has a $5 per couple fee. Call 257-5855 to register.

Sibling Class

Memorial Maternity Center offers a Sibling Class to make it easier for big brothers and sisters to prepare for and accept a new baby. ## Non-athlete now living his sports dream

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

When I am asked by someone who meets me for the first time, Did you ever play sports in high school, I have a ready reply.

"Did I ever play sports in high school?" I ask in disbelief. "I'll have you know my picture is in the trophy case of the Greenville High School gymnasium."

The statement is also misleading.

The year was 1985, and the 224 Greenville Comets had just hijacked Highland 7-66 to win the Vandalla Regional Tournament title. Since it was the last good basketball team Greenville ever had, the photo of the team, gathered jubilantly around the regional plaque, still adorns the trophy case. There I am, just to the left of center, standing right behind the team along with the rest of the fans, cheering excitedly as ticket information for the sectionals was announced.

My basketball career was cut short my freshman year when the coaches discovered I had no talent. This same "injury" also kept me out of football and baseball.

I tried wrestling, but with the upper body strength of a Tickle Me Elmo doll, I didn't last. I did find the sport somewhat restful, however, for I spent most of the time lying flat on my back.

My true athletic prowess was in track and field. I was actually third in the mile run one afternoon; I lost the feeling in my legs as I rounded the last turn and ended up sprawled face-down on a cinder track.

I quickly deduced that the best contribution I could make to high school sports was to marry an athlete and bear children who could play sports well. At this I succeeded.

My oldest son was involved in wrestling, baseball, football, basketball, soccer and track. As slick and quick as a politician's tongue, he was on the receiving end of the longest touchdown pass (80 yards) in Bethalto Civic Memorial history.

My second son was a distance runner in track, a forward and goal-keeper in soccer, a power forward in basketball and a receiver and linebacker in football for CM. He holds the Eagles' record for most interception returns for a touchdown in a season (3) — one short of the state record.

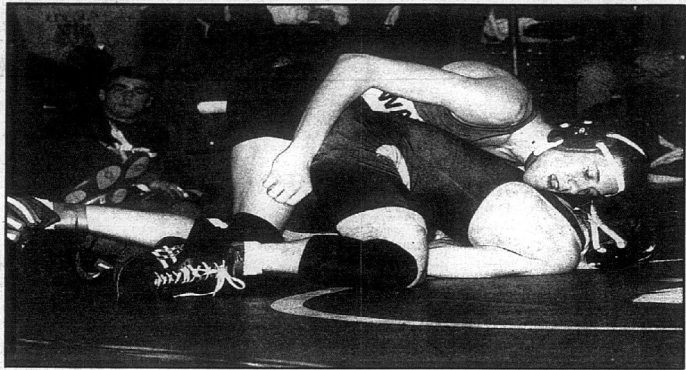

My daughter has also been a soccer and basketball player but is currently focused on volleyball and softball. A hard-nosed player with a strong work ethic, she also has been quite successful.

They are each living out their own dreams, not mine. And that is as it should be. And what about dad? Well, as strange as it may sound, I'm living out my dream, too. I am now doing full time what I have done part time for nearly 30 years. I am covering high school sports in Illinois. Specifically, the Metro East. And I am loving every moment.

I have had the privilege of working closely for many years with the Illinois High School Association as statistician/historian. I have covered games and written features for newspapers from as far north as the Chicago Sun-Times to as far south as the Centralia Sentinel. And I have supplied stories and features for the Illinois Basketball Historian. My work, STATE is the definitive word on the IHSA boys state basketball tournament.

Though my area of expertise is high school basketball, I am a lover and a student of high school sports in general.

The wrestling Warriors completely dominated three more teams in weekend matches, running their overall record to 16-0 and 5-0 in the Southwest Conference.

On Friday, GCIS invaded Belleville (East) for a conference showdown and emerged with a convincing 55-7 victory. Eight Warriors pinned their opponents in or before the second period: Mike Glover (119), John Kelly (126), Matt Werner (130), Brooks Narvaez (140), Jonas Janek (146), David Thompson (152), George Kirgan (172), and Kevin Venne (186) all won by fall.

Justin Hale (136) and Ike Newman (161) were taken the distance, but scored impressive victories. Hale smoked Darius Simmons 12-4 while Newman grabbed a quick 9-2 first period advantage and fought even the rest of the way for an 18-11 win.

The closest contests of the evening involved lightweight Gary Oxford (104) who fell 3-0 to Nick Bingham, Adam Dumnivant (112) who was edged by Nick Wickler 6-3; and heavyweight Nick Campbell, who bested Chris Voland 7-5.

The GCIS Junior Varsity also won their competition, outdueling East 45-31. Chad Wilson and Dennis Davis scored 15-0 and 15-1 wins respectively, while Ben LoFink and Mark Derossett won by fall less than a minute into their matches. The Freshmen fell 39-34, despite total dominance in the lower weight classes.

On Saturday, the GCIS varsity and JV traveled to Chatham to battle host Glenwood and Quincy in a potentially tough triangular meet. But, again, the Warriors had little trouble dispatching their opponents. Quincy fell first, 48-9, as the Warriors improved to 15-0 on the season. Mike Glover (119) pinned the Blue Devil's Roy Litch less than a minute into period one, and George Kirgan (171) and Kevin Venne (189) both won by fall in period two. Adam Dumnivant (112) and Matt Werner (130) held their opponents without a point, while Justin Hale (135) was all over Jason Mallory 17-2. Other varsity victors were Brooks Narvaez (140), Ike Newman (160) and Gary Oxford (105).

Federko hat trick powers Flyers past Warriors 5-2

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

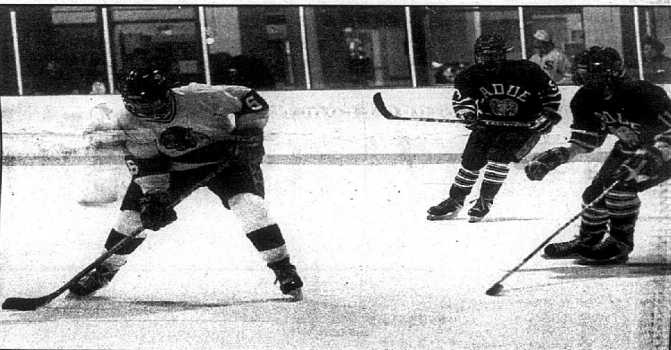

Jordy Federko's hat trick sparked the visiting Chaminade Flyers to a 5-2 victory over the Granite City Warriors in a penalty-plagued hockey game Monday night. There were 14 minutes of penalties in the game's first 5 minutes and 20 minutes worth in the first period. For the game, Granite City drew seven penalties and Chaminade 12 for a combined total of 38 minutes. Chaminade (7-9-1) started fast as Chris Peterson came in from the wing off the opening face-off to blister one past GCIS goalie Matt Freeze just 3 seconds into the contest.

GCIS (6-9-2) quickly regrouped and soon had their offense clicking. They peppered Flyer keeper Ryan Dooley during a 2-minute power play late in the period, but could not find the net. With a minute remaining, they had outshot the visitors 9-5, but had no goal to show for their effort.

At 14:24 of the first period, and again just 18 seconds later, Federko connected from close range, and the Flyers were up 3-0 at the horn. Federko, son of former Blues great Bernie Federko, scored first off a Greg Albus assist and then weaved his way through several defenders on his way to a spectacular unassisted goal.

"Our problem all year has been a lack of intensity," said GCIS coach Rick Hodge. "We gain intensity as the game progresses, but we lack it at the start. Again tonight we started slow, and again, it cost us."

After giving up a power play goal at 6:17 of the second period, the Warriors' intensity picked up. Finally, at the 9:21 mark with

Area football squads aim for nationals

By Scott Marlon

The Budweiser Men's Flag Football League is making a name for itself.

The Belleville-based league will send two teams to the American Football Association National Championships, Saturday and Sunday in Las Vegas. This is the first time that Midwestern teams have been invited to the 100-team tourney, which is comprised mostly of teams from West and Northwest.

Team Budweiser qualified by winning the BMFL's competitive division, while Kichur Dumbare, Dumbare, the coach of the team, is a former NFL player.

"This is our fourth year," said league president Andy Millas, who plays for Team Budweiser. "We started the league in the fall of '92. Illinois Distributing came aboard as a sponsor the next year and has been with us ever since. We had six teams the first year and now we have 22. We've also played a spring season the last three years."

"We have 10 teams in the competitive division and 12 in the recreational division. In the competitive division, there's more to shoot for. We just got back from New Orleans, where we were 2-2 in the Nike Invitational. That put us in the top 15 out of 60 teams. It's a seven-on-sev-

Toughman Kunkle thinks pro

If you are a cable television subscriber or a visitor of video stores, stay tuned for an opportunity to watch another southwestern Illinois athlete in action. He's 27-year-old Chris Kunkle of Millstadt, who recently finished eighth in the National Toughman competition in Detroit — where the boxing bouts were filmed for future use.

"I was lucky to rent a video of a previous competition and see one of the guys I fought in Detroit," said the 6-foot-4½, 240-pound Kunkle.

That opponent was George Gordon of Las Vegas, the winner of the 1994 Toughman and a winner over Butterbean, the nationally recognized Toughman-turned professional boxer.

In Detroit, Kunkle outpointed the 6-1, 275-pound Gordon after opening with a decision over 6-6, 275-pound Tony Mendoza of North Dakota.

On the second night of the national, Kunkle defeated 6-5, 235-pound Brad Main of Pittsburgh, but his trek in the 44-man competition ended when he dislocated his right elbow in the fourth bout.

In the first round against Sugar Ray Hammond of Dayton, Ohio, Kunkle fired a right hand that struck his 25-year-old opponent's right shoulder.

Before the bout was stopped, the ring physician pulled Kunkle's elbow back into place, but the pain prevailed, and the Belleville West High School graduate could not continue.

"I could have done better," Kunkle said. "I tried to move and dance and get some combinations going, but he swarmed me."

A former pro football player and American Gladiator, Hammond later earned $10,000 when he finished second to Danny Shultz, 37, of Opelika, Ala., a 6-3, 225-pounder who captured the title and $750,000.

Art Voellinger
he finished second to Danny Shultz, 37, of Opelika, Ala., a 6-3, 225-pounder who captured the title and $750,000.

Even though 37 is the age limit for the Toughman and the one-minute rounds allowed the well-conditioned Kunkle to handle more than one fight per night, he has other thoughts. "I'm considering pro boxing," Kunkle said.

A Silver Gloves champion as an amateur in 1981, when he weighed 120 pounds, Kunkle may have benefited by being away from the ring while he grew. "He's young, fresh and strong," said Bill Kunkle Sr., a former boxer who trained Chris as well as another son, Bill Kunkle Jr., who was a golden Gloves champ.

Chris Kunkle qualified for the nationals by going 5-0 last year in competition at St. Charles, Mo., where his three knockouts included one over a 6-7, 274-pound opponent and another over a 6-8, 347-pound foe.

Kunkle had not touched boxing gloves for 13 years and trained just three days prior to entering the St. Charles competition. Before fighting in Detroit, he sparred with his brother Bill and nationally recognized kickboxer Tommy Whitaker of Belleville. "We got a lot of work done in my dad's garage," Chris said of his training.

Granite City played their best hockey in the third period, keeping the puck at their own end and keeping the pressure on Dooley. GCHS outshot the Flyers 12-5 in the last 15 minutes for a 27-20 advantage on the night.
Jon Burns scored at the 6:53 mark with assists from Bob Meszaros and Bob Pritchard, and the Warriors were suddenly within two. With dominating play in the period, GCHS began picking up momentum.
That's when Federico struck again, taking a pinpoint pass from Chris Frey in alone on a helpless Freeze. The goal upped the Flyers' margin to 5-2, ending any hope of a Warriors comeback.

en, no-contact tournament.
"The rules are exactly the same for both divisions. It's eight-man flag football with limited contact."
The BMFFL is also affiliated with the National Touch and Flag League.
"It's the oldest league in the country and started up last year after a five-year absence," Millas said. "They had their national tournament last Thanksgiving in St. Louis, and a team from Dupro (the Untouchables) won it."
Many members of Team Budweiser may be familiar to local football fans. Millas played at Belleville West and Missouri Southern University and now coaches defensive backs at West. Teammate Ronnie Lindsay played for Mascoutah and Missouri Southern.
Three guys — Mike Hall, Todd Blomberg and Mark

Ambrose — played at Millikin (University), Millas said. "Todd and Mark coach at Belleville East. Fritz Holcomb (Freeburg High) coaches at Belleville West."
"A couple guys played college basketball. Steve Roth was a 6-10 backup center at Illinois and Dave Mordhorst, who is 6-8, played at McKendree. Porry Wells (Belleville East) played football and baseball at Illinois and is in the Colorado Rockies minor league system."
"Some of our bigger guys on the line played high school, like Steve Wright, Jason Hester and Paul Lanzante, who coaches for the Little Devils. Dale Fink played for Montana State when they finished second in the nation in Division I-AA and Ken Brown played semipro ball for the St. Louis Gamblers. Our quarterback, Demos Argyros, played at Wisconsin."
Millas wants to see what his team can do on the national level in Las Vegas.

"We'll be playing in a park with 16 fields — they'll have games from 7:30 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon," Millas said. "We'll play two games for sure on Saturday in a round-robin format and play single elimination on Sunday."
"The teams out there allow professional athletes to play, and we don't. Four or five years ago, (former Oakland Raider) Kenny Stabler played quarterback for one team. But all of the quarterbacks can throw the ball 50 or 60 yards in the air and all their wide receivers can run 4.4 or 4.5 (seconds) in the 40 (yard dash)."
"We'll match up pretty well, but overall they'll have more speed. We play a hard-nosed style and run the ball sometimes, but the teams out there throw all the time. They also kick field goals and extra points, which we don't do, but John Frangolis, who plays for us at wide receiver, was a kicker for Southwest Missouri State."

The Kehrer Brothers Roofing team, meanwhile, has a distinct Clinton County flavor, as all of its players are high school graduates of either Mater Dei or Breese Central. Team members are Kevin Kehrer, Chris Kehrer, Derrick Hunsman, Mike Dorries, Ron Timmerman, Brad Poettker, Jeremy Gebke, Brad Zurlene, Dave Thomas, Dale Engelmann, Gary Engelmann, Bill Engelmann, Sean Engelmann, Andy Warner, Kelley Voegel and Stan Peterson.
Kehrer Brothers placed first in the recreational division of the BMFFL with an 11-0 record and third in the major flag division at last fall's tournament in St. Louis.

"The Midwest Classic is a prelude for the state tournament," said coach Tom Nance. "We are very excited about our finish, and know that we will do even better once we get wrestlers in each weight class."

Volunteer directory out

Responding to the growing need for volunteers on America's public lands, the American Hiking Society released, "Helping Out in the Outdoors 1997," a directory of more than 2,500 internships and volunteer jobs available through federal land management agencies. The national nonprofit group hopes the directory will help energetic volunteers find projects that match their interests and schedules.

For more than 20 years, "Helping Out in the Outdoors" has enabled hundreds of thousands of volunteers make a difference on behalf of America's public lands. Jobs vary from weekend posts to seasonal positions to long-term placement and are available for a may age and skills levels.

"Helping Out in the Outdoors" provides thousands of opportunities to give something back to the lands we enjoy, and have fun doing it," said American Hiking Society President David Lillard. "It is also an opportunity to meet people with shared interests, and it's a great way for college students to fulfill internship requirements and gain valuable hands-on experience."

Although the bulk of "Helping Out in the Outdoors" are outdoor opportunities, some administrative positions are also available. Volunteers might present interpretive programs to visitors at Montanas; Little Bighorn Battlefield

National Monument or help with an archeological dig through the USDA Forest Service's "Passport in Time."

Other opportunities include the Bureau of Land Management's Arizona Strip District, which is currently seeking fire lookouts for the 1997 summer season and the Florida Everglades, which annually employs more than 200 volunteers as hydrologists, fishery managers and wildlife biologists.

Listings are grouped by state and by region making it easy to find work close to home — or in a vacation spot.

To help volunteers find positions that fit their interests, each entry includes a description of the position and the skills needed. Although American Hiking is responsible for coordinating and publishing the updated directory each year, volunteers work directly with the individual agency coordinators. Addresses and telephone numbers are also listed.

To receive the "1997 Helping Out in the Outdoors," call the American Hiking Society at (301) 565-6704, or send $7 to AHS Helping Out, 1422 Fenwick Lane, Silver Spring, Md. 20910.

For 1st class delivery, add $3. Make checks payable to American Hiking Society. Visa and MasterCard are also accepted.

The American Hiking Society is a nonprofit organization.

Horse Salve Eases Arthritis Pain

LOUISVILLE, KY — An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in a horse's legs, has now been approved by government researchers for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx.

ARTH-Rx comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446.

ARTH-Rx is available in Granite City at THE MEDICINE SHOPPE 3675 Nameoki Rd. 451-4200.

HEALTH

Ice or heat: Which is best for pain, swelling, back?

It's 5:30 in the evening and your son walks in the door complaining of ankle pain following a neighborhood football game. As Doctor Mom, you take a look at the ankle and notice it has started to swell. Do you reach for the ice or heat?

You have just finished your gardening for the day, when as you stand up with difficulty, you notice stiffness and soreness of your back and legs. Do you reach for the ice or heat?

Over the years considerable research has been done to try to answer questions like these. The matter becomes more complex when you wonder: How long? How often? How soon?

These issues become important because research has shown that with certain acute conditions recovery time can be almost doubled if the proper therapy is delayed and recovery prolonged two and half times if the wrong therapy is chosen.

For acutely swollen conditions, ice is usually indicated immediately after the injury. This phase is often characterized by swelling, pain, redness and heat. Ice is normally used from 10 to 20 minutes depending on the body part size. The smaller areas such as an ankle, hand or neck would benefit from 10 minutes of ice. Larger areas such as low back or thigh would require closer to 20 minutes. Shoulders and knees would be around 15 minutes.

The length of time is important because using ice too long can be detrimental to recovery and dangerous. During the use of ice you will often notice the following sensations in this order: coldness, burning, analgesia then numbness.

"How often" will vary on the condition, but it normally ranges from a minimum of two to three times a day to as much as hourly.

"How soon" is easily answered with as soon as possible. As mentioned earlier, in some research it has been found that it can take twice as long for recovery if the ice is started 48 hours after the injury.

Once ice is started it is beneficial to continue its use usually for 24 to 72 hours. After the initial swelling, pain, redness and heat has improved, moist heat to the area can normally be started. Heat should not be used if it increases the heat, pain, redness or swelling of the area.

Ice can be used in the form of an ice pack or an ice massage. Ice massages are done by freezing a three-quarters filled Dixie cup of water and then peeling the paper down to expose half an inch of ice.

Place the ice in direct contact with the swollen area and move in a circular pattern at a speed that is comfortable. The ice massage has the advantage of cooling the area faster and more effectively than an ice pack. The massage action can also help remove the built up fluid from the area.

Ice can also be used for pain control. Under these circumstances the length of time would be four to five minutes, usually about every 30 minutes. The swelling of certain areas will further benefit from compression and elevation.

To go back to the original questions, ice is suggested in the first case and heat in the second case. It is important to remember that not everyone responds to ice and heat the same. In the second case, ice is preferred by some patients but heat is the best bet. If the pain had been severe in the second case or an injury would have happened during the activity, then again ice would be recommended.

Moist heat, such as a moist heating pad, hot shower or whirlpool is preferred over dry heat. Moist heat is often best for chronic injuries or conditions, muscular soreness, tightness and restricted motion. But remember that moist heat should not increase the pain, redness, heat or swelling of the area following its use.

Ice and heat use is only part of a treatment program. Some injuries and conditions also require a specifically designed stretching and/or strengthening program, therapy and adjustments.

Appropriate medical advice should always be sought for more severe injuries or when a condition is not improving. Anyone with a history of a significant medical problem, difficulty exercising or starting a new exercise program should seek appropriate medical advice.

Sport outfits are now designed for cross-training

What fitness fanatic hasn't longed for one set of clothing and one pair of shoes that would take him with ease from the tennis court to the weight room and onto an aerobic class?

Everyone wishes for a complete outfit that is technically durable and versatile, yet looks good no matter what the activity. Now that wish is granted — cross-training is here.

Cross-training is a relatively new sports category that was created to satisfy the burgeoning number of people who have decided that variety is definitely the spice of life.

People aren't just spending their time jogging but want to get themselves in the best possible shape by mixing it up in several different sports. Specialization isn't the buzz word anymore; diversification is.

To make life easier for sports enthusiasts, a special line of apparel and footwear has been created to meet requirements.

One of the top collections is made by Nike, which led the way by inventing cross-training. Their clothes and shoes are sure to satisfy the most serious athlete as well as the dedicated weekend warrior.

Nike has used innovative fabric combinations like Coolmax and Lycra to provide the coolest, most comfortable workouts possible.

The shorts, tights, tanks and T-shirts flatter but allow for any kind of movement. Stretch fleece pullovers can be matched up with training pants when nature's ultimate gym, the great outdoors, beckons.

Chiropractic future linked to research

It is clear that if the chiropractic profession is to find its rightful place in the rapidly developing managed health delivery system, such a place will be based on research; specifically, on appropriateness of chiropractic care in any given health care condition, outcomes measures (success of treatment), the efficacy of chiropractic (controlled clinical trials) and cost effectiveness.

There is both good news and bad news associated with the current effort(s) in these regards: the good news is that our profession's leading research arm, the Foundation for Chiropractic Education and Research (FCER), is and has been exactly on target. It remains the most vital force on the scene in the promotion of valid research undertakings directed toward the required ends.

The bad news is that sufficient support for research efforts still eludes the profession. Those who encourage such efforts are virtual pioneers. Those who sacrifice for them are too few in number, keeping the funds available for such research activities at a sorely inadequate level.

The cries from some in the profession for "parity" for "primary provider status," for avoiding the "back pain doctor" title or, even for maintaining some older, more familiar role as the family doctor, are now being answered with the cry, "We want evidence." The medical profession is scrambling to prove its ministrations "work." So too are virtually all elements of the health care system.

Fortunately for chiropractic, it has certain studies relating to managed health care issues. Dating from the early 1970s and on up until the present time, an increasing number of chiropractors and medical practitioners have braved the seeming disinterest in research by many in the profession, and the studies have been, by and large, favorable.

And also, fortunately, the FCER has been there to encourage, and often fund such activities. Standing behind the FCER has been the ACA with its member dues contributions to it. The FCER has either directly funded much of the research or has professionally managed funds provided by other leading organizations in the profession, such as the ACA and the National Chiropractic Mutual Insurance Company (NCMIC).

Some of our chiropractic colleges have taken the very difficult step into the research arena—difficult because of the high costs of paying faculty to teach, only to then have to release them from teaching assignments to conduct research.

In 1975, the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Stroke (NINDS) of the National Institute of Health held a workshop on the State of the Art of Spinal Manipulative Therapy. The most favorable finding: there was evidence neither to deny nor support the efficacy of manipulative therapy.

Lively Taste

Sometimes Thai, Indonesian and other ethnic recipes call for coconut milk. A single cup of canned coconut milk, the liquid expressed from grated coconut and water, contains as much fat -- a whopping 48 grams, mostly saturated -- as six cups whole cow milk. For more than one or two tablespoons coconut milk, try to gain a similar illusion by flavoring regular or evaporated skim milk with a few drops coconut extract.

Health & Fitness

Medicine Chest

Aspirin has been shown to be beneficial in preventing heart attacks and may help prevent colon cancer. Recently elderly people in a three-year study who took aspirin for other chronic conditions showed less decline in mental functions, too. Because taking aspirin is not without risk, a physician should be consulted before starting to take it as a preventative.

Fresh Picks

Citrus is easy to bag this time of year. The Valencia orange gives orange juice full flavor. Blood oranges -- with dark scarlet pulp and a familiarly sweet flavor -- are common in the Mediterranean, but new to American markets. Navel oranges are easy to peel. They get their name from a small secondary fruit embedded in the primary fruit, giving the appearance of a belly button.

Big Fat Tip

It is possible to eat fast food without sacrificing good health. Skip combinations that provide a mass of fat in french fries and sauce-drenched sandwiches. Their pocketbook economy offers no value in good health. Instead, check out moderate-sized sandwiches with broiled meat, ask for sauce on the side and opt for low- or no-fat salad dressing. Stack a filling meal. Start with a fajita, add a vegetable or side salad, finish with a fat-free muffin or cup of low-fat ice cream. If certain eateries are routine, ask for a copy of their nutrition data periodically, as they add, subtract or change the menu.

Future Shop

Most people who work full time prefer to shop on Saturday, rather than late at night. Shopping consultants say people who grab-and-go often spend more time, as well as money, than they realize at a supermarket. Shopping savvy helps in the produce aisle. It pays to buy the level of ripeness which results in desired usage and little waste through spoilage. If there is doubt, ask the produce manager for tips on how to check fruits and vegetables for signs of ripeness or freshness.

LITE DAWNS

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Wake up! If the "lite" in food is not shining, it probably should.

No matter what color hair or how many chins someone wears, given a choice, that person probably will not go hungry. For years the health community has worked to point out how foods affect life and the prospects for good health.

Dr. Anne C. Goldberg, director of the Lipid Research Clinic at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, says exercise and healthy eating can have positive effects on cholesterol which, when it is high -- particularly the LDL (bad) cholesterol -- can be a major risk factor for heart disease.

While not everyone has high blood cholesterol, the effects of exercise and healthier eating may avoid a medical crisis resulting from unhealthy practices.

Unlikely Chicken

4 small (4 oz. each) halves chicken breast, boneless and skinless
1/3 cup nonfat plain yogurt
1/3 cup apricot or raspberry all-fruit preserves
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard

Preheat oven to 350°.

Rinse chicken in cold water; pat dry with paper towel. Place in small, shallow baking dish in single layer.

Combine yogurt, preserves and mustard. Spread over chicken. Bake, uncovered, 45 minutes.

Makes 4 servings; 219 calories, 3 g fat, 21 g carbohydrate, 27 g protein and 83 mg sodium each.

"We are seeking a strategy to deal with high cholesterol and heart disease," Goldberg says.

Linda Levy and Francine Grabowski teamed up to write a book called "Low-Fat Living for Real People" (Lake Isle Press, $12.95).

Levy, who writes humorous features, took up the better-eating crusade when her husband required angioplasty 10 years ago.

"I want to hold people's hands through a change in cooking and eating so they feel they can do this. I felt I was inventing the wheel then, because my husband loves good food, there weren't all the helpful products around and I didn't find anything but awful recipes," she says.

As a registered dietician,

Grabowski became the scientific authority. "Eating and eating well really is part of having a real life," she affirms.

None of them sees situations as being insurmountable. That includes favorite desserts, eating out, facing both television and refrigerator alone at

Super Spread: In food processor, chop 1 red or golden delicious apple, peeled, cored and coarsely chopped, 1 cup roasted peanuts, 1/3 cup honey, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon cinnamon until ingredients begin to blend. Scrape down ingredients. Process 1 to 2 minutes until mixture is smooth and spreadable.

Sandwich Star: Using butter knife, spread 1 tablespoon Super Spread on each of 2 slices sandwich bread. Stack together spread-side up. Top with third piece.

Place star-shaped cookie cutter on top of sandwich. Press down firmly and evenly. Leaving cookie cutter in place, remove excess trimmings with fingers or butter knife.

Remove cookie cutter. Serve trimmings later to humans or birds.

Micro Raves

Worldwide consensus: Rice is basically nice

By BARB GRAY

Rice is a giving food. It flourishes where wheat hesitates to grow and yields much more per acre than wheat or corn. It is the chief food source for half the world.

Most cultivated rice, known as aquatic rice, is grown in marshy or flooded lands, in a humid environment throughout much of the southern United States and southern part of Missouri. The southern part of Missouri puts the state fifth in production.

The Indians and Chinese probably are born knowing how to cook rice perfectly. In this country, the fluffy white grains of cooked long-grain rice from Texas and Louisiana is appreciated most, but short-grain rice from California is fine for puddings and soups.

Around the world styles vary. There is Spanish-type rice with a short plump grain, Patna rice from India with a long narrow grain, as well as Japanese, Chinese and Italian rice, literally hundreds of rice. That does not count wild rice, called "rice," but really the seed of a tall wild aquatic grass. American Indians harvested for hundreds of years in the Northwest.

Preparation differs. Parboiled rice is uncooked but treated to preserve the food values lost in polishing, while precooked rice is parboiled quickly. Most white rice today is milled lightly to retain its natural qualities. In brown rice, only husks are removed.

While most rice can be cooked the same way, some require longer time than others. While rice takes the same amount of time to cook in a microwave oven as on top of a range, it saves energy and cleanup time. Combine 1 cup rice (regular-milled long, medium or short grain), 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt and table-spoon butter or margarine in a deep, 3-quart microwave-safe baking dish. Cook, covered, 5 minutes on high power, then 15 minutes on medium (50 percent) power. Fluff with a fork after cooking.

Properly covered, cooked rice keeps in a refrigerator up to 7 days. To reheat it in a microwave oven, cover and cook it on high power 1 minute for each cup. Frozen rice should be cooked on high power 2 minutes for each 1 cup. Fluff with a fork before serving.

These flavorful recipes are from "Microwaving America's Favorites" from the Microwave Cooking Library.

Certified family and consumer scientist Barb Gray specializes in microwave cooking.

Chilling day brings out best chili on winter night

By PAUL OTT

When the sun goes down on a slow Sunday afternoon, nothing is better than a steaming bowl of chili to warm the end of a day. Chili from a can or a restaurant, although convenient, is usually high in sodium and fat, but it is easy to make at home in a healthy way.

The biggest contributor to fat in chili is ground meat. Ground turkey can be substituted easily for higher-fat ground beef with no significant change in taste. The best choice for ground turkey is ground turkey breast from the meat department in a supermarket. This is not always kept on hand, but it is easy to request.

Registered dietitian Paul Ott is a member of the nutrition committee of the American Heart Association, St. Louis Chapter.

TURKEY CHILI

- 1 cup dried kidney beans
- 2 cups water
- 1 lb. ground turkey breast
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 carrots, shredded
- 1 tsp. chili powder
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 tsp. ground cumin
- 1 tsp. crushed oregano
- ½ tsp. pepper sauce
- 1 can (16 oz.)

reduced-sodium tomatoes, broken in pieces

Heat water and beans to boiling. Boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Let stand, covered, 1 hour. Add enough water to cover beans. Heat to boil. Reduce heat to gentle simmer. Simmer, covered, 1 to 1½ hours until tender.

Place onion and carrot in microwave-safe casserole with 1 to 2 teaspoons water.

Microwave, covered, in 1-minute increments, stirring occasionally, until onion is translucent and soft.

In 3-quart saucepan, brown ground turkey.

Casserole is flexible

Jane Knowles, Trenton, Ill., is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Mama's Tortilla Casserole. Her prize is dinner certificates at the Pasta House Co.

This was an expandable treat in the home of her mother, who had nine children. The aroma during its preparation makes her look forward to its fine flavor. Ranch-style beans enhance the flavor of the corn in the tortillas.

Recipes in the Dried Bean Recipe Contest should be postmarked by Jan. 31 for consideration as winner each Wednesday in February, one of four possible prize dates.

Send in a recipe—one per household—for any kind of dish, from appetizer to main dish or dessert, that uses dried beans: Dried Bean Recipe Contest, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

MAMA'S TORTILLA CASSEROLE

- 2 lb. ground beef
- 1 medium chopped onion or onion salt to taste
- 2 cans (10½ oz. each) cream of mushroom or cream of chicken soup (see Note)
- 2 cans (10 oz. each) mild or hot enchilada sauce
- 2 cans (15 oz. each) ranch-style beans
- pkg. corn tortillas
- Grated mild cheddar cheese

Brown meat and onion. Add soups, enchilada sauce and beans. Heat mixture until it comes to boil.

Tear tortillas in several pieces. Add to mixture. Over low heat, cook 25 minutes, stirring occasionally to keep from sticking.

Preheat oven to 350°. Pour meat and tortilla mixture into large shallow baking dish. Cover with cheese. Bake in preheated oven until cheese just melts.

Drain.

Add onion, carrot, chili powder, garlic, cumin, oregano, pepper sauce and undrained tomato. Heat to boiling.

Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

Stir in beans. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat. Simmer, uncovered, and stir frequently, about 20 minutes until desired consistency.

Makes 5 servings; 245 calories, 21 g protein, 21 g carbohydrate and 7 g fat each.

American Heart Association, dietitians, doctors and much discussion in newspapers and magazines.

Goldberg says a concerted effort to get cholesterol in line should yield results in three to four weeks.

The Lipid Research Clinic tracks patients over the years to see the effect eating and medicine have on cholesterol. Results are among those used nationwide for reference.

While she is a firm believer in benefits from those changes, Goldberg also tracks results of adding medication to the regimen of treatment.

"Since 1994 major studies have been published that show cholesterol-lowering drugs reduce the risk of having first heart attacks and also reduce heart attacks in those who have had them. They show mortality reductions, too, plus fewer angioplasties," she says.

Testers try private label non-dairy creamer from Shop 'n Save for their morning brew.

Private Label Test Run

Thrifty creamer softens edge of high-octane coffee

For coffee lovers who like to drink it on the creamy side, but cannot negotiate a way to get or keep fresh milk or cream nearby, powdered creamer is often the answer.

Shop 'n Save offers a non-dairy creamer in an 11-ounce plastic jar that costs 99 cents. Testers who tried the creamer did not offer diluted comments. All lined up on the affirmative.

"The creamer dissolved easily and added a smooth flavor to the coffee," a coffee-loving taster said. While she does not regularly use creamer, she finds it an interesting addition now and then for diversity.

"Price definitely would make it more appealing because, since nearly all creamers are created equal to me, price is a big factor in my purchase," she added.

For another heavy coffee user who likes it light in color and flavor, it yielded as much satisfaction.

"I thought the coffee creamer had a rich, high-quality taste. And it dissolved quickly in my coffee."

That's the criteria I look for in any creamer, no matter what the cost. This one met the test—and at a savings," he said.

Another regular coffee drinker called the creamer "very good."

"I find no difference between it and the name brands," he said.

A tester who loves black coffee sampled it as an after-dinner drink with chocolate flavoring.

"I always have a small jar of creamer on hand, but I'd never thought to use it with a flavoring before. It dissolved and gave the flavoring a creamy richness. The coffee was a little strong, so it took just a few seconds extra for the creaminess to cover it, but it lasted as long as the drink did," she said.

"I'd use it again for this."

Its nutritional outline is similar to other brands: One teaspoon powdered creamer has 0.5 grams fat and 10 calories.

LITE DAWNS

Grabowski adds, "The ones who really have problems are truck drivers and night shift workers who work next to a doughnut shop."

How do they solve these challenges?

When truck drivers stop to eat, they select lots of fruits, they ask for salad dressing on the side and pick the "vegetable of the day," served without cheese, cream or butter. Night workers speak up and ask the doughnut vendor to add bagels and low-fat toppings to the menu.

The authors look for ways to keep food's flavor and moistness. Yogurt and wine are two of them.

Nonfat plain yogurt can be used for flavor (See Unlikely Chicken recipe) or as a marinade. One of their recipes in the book, has 4 skinless, boneless chicken breasts in an overnight marinade of ½ cup yogurt, 1 clove garlic (finely chopped), 1 teaspoon dried mint and freshly ground pepper before broiling 7 minutes on each side.

Cooking with wine adds fat-free flavor, with most of the alcohol burned off in cooking.

They come up with many more options for cutting fat and eating in fine taste.

• Cook food, particularly fish, wrapped in aluminum foil to seal in flavor.

• Refrigerate chicken broth to congeal fat on top. "Throw it down your sink and let it clog your sink instead of your heart," Levy says.

• Check out new fat-free products, like cream cheese and baked tortilla chips. Look for ready-made dips low in or without fat.

• Concoct a modern blue-plate special. Switch the three sections so meat has a smaller compartment.

• While not a no-no, meat should not always be a meal's focus. Think of a serving of meat as being about the size of a deck of cards or a TV remote control. Make burgers with ground skinless turkey breast. Beef sirloin and pork tenderloin are cuts to feature. Remove the skin from poultry.

The place for a cook to feel heavenly is in the fresh produce section.

Grabowski says, "Nothing is out of season. The foods are so good for you they don't even have labels. They can be bought sliced, diced, prewashed. Almost everything is naturally low in fat and come with heart-protective qualities."

Read, read, read — labels, that is. The dietitian calls the label system a "major breakthrough," allowing consistent information to be digested and compared. She recommends reading "serving size" first.

"If your serving size is different from the label, and most people's are, you need to consider this when deciding how much of that food you should eat."

Beware of mindless foods, cautions Levy.

"You are home alone, the dog is asleep and you find your hand with an empty bag of whatever chip or cracker that was hanging around the kitchen moments ago."

She uses the example of cheese crackers where a single serving of five crackers has 4 grams fat. The "problem" is a sleeve of them, which fits in a single hand, has 35 crackers, which she calls "a lot of fat."

Her advice is to be sensible. Make a decision about how many should be eaten, put them in a bowl and move into another room without the bag or box.

Grabowski says a little planning provides filling snacks. She likes to put together two- and three-part snacks, such as a glass of skim milk with a banana or a piece of fruit with pretzels. Baby carrots and apples in a refrigerator makes snacks accessible.

Fat-free foods are helpful, but serving sizes in everything from cookies to cheese should be considered. Buy items in individual portions, like puddings or frozen dessert on a stick, when possible. Use a moderate or small sized scoop to serve frozen yogurt.

• Know the territory. If food from a convenience store is routine, scout one with options like bottled water, pretzels, yogurt, fruit and bagels.

• Make food look good. When it pleases the eye, it pleases the palate.

• Eat lightly before going out for a big meal. Listen to feelings of fullness. Save the best for last so the last feel in the mouth is the yummiest.

If dessert cannot be avoided, order one dessert and six forks, one for each person at the table.

"If you are eating low-fat or no-fat foods, you are entitled to an indulgence every once in awhile," Goldberg says.

There are many sources of information concerning eating changes. They suggest a local chapter of the

Recipe

BEAN, HAM AND PASTA SOUP

- 1 cup dried pinto beans, rinsed, picked over
- 2 tsp. olive oil
- 1/4 lb. smoked ham, chopped
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1 rib celery, finely chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 1/2 cups condensed chicken broth

- 3 cups water
- 1/4 cup tomato paste
- 1/2 cup uncooked spaghetti, broken in 1 inch pieces, or bow-tie or shell pasta
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

In large bowl, combine beans and water to cover beans by 2 inches. Let stand overnight. Drain well. In large skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add ham, onion and celery. Cook, stirring often, about 6 minutes until lightly browned. Add garlic. Cook, stirring often, 1 minute.

Add chicken broth, stirring to scrape up browned bits on bottom of skillet. Transfer mixture to 3 1/2 quart slow-cooker. Add drained beans, water and tomato paste. Cover. Cook 7 to 8 hours on low power or 4 to 5 hours on high power until beans are tender. Stir in pasta, salt and pepper. Turn heat to high. Cook 30 to 60 minutes until pasta is tender. Using large spoon, crush enough beans against side of cooker to reach consistency desired. Serve immediately. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Wise Ways

By CYNTHIA FAUSER

Latte lavishes calcium in light, yet rich, drink

Cappuccino, latte and cafe au lait feel indulgent. How wonderful such luxury also can be good for us!

A simple tip from coffee houses can boost calcium intake: Instead of coffee with cream, try a latte "skinny."

Simply simultaneously pour equal amounts strong-brewed coffee and hot skim milk into bowl-size cups. Those who like instant coffee can microwave equal parts water and skim milk, then stir in a teaspoon of coffee crystals. If the milk is frothed by an espresso steamer or a blender, it is a cappuccino. Sprinkle with a few shakes of cinnamon or sweet cocoa and enjoy the pampering.

As a regular substitute for plain ol' coffee, latte and cappuccino made with skim milk can pay calcium dividends by sneaking an extra serving or two of milk per day on those who cannot do without their coffee "fix." Three servings a day from the milk group are recommended for women. Although any kind of milk can be used, skim milk provides all the calcium of whole milk at only 80 calories per cup.

These tips and other great ways to enjoy skim milk, including today's recipe, are available in a free booklet from the St. Louis District Dairy Council. To order one, send a self-addressed, business-size envelope with 56 cents postage to: "Trim With Skim" c/o St. Louis District Dairy Council, 8710 Manchester Road, St. Louis, Mo. 63144.

Registered dietitian Cynthia Fauser is nutrition specialist with University Extension (University of Missouri system) in St.

Louis County.

AT-HOME CAPPUCCINO

- 2 cups skim or 1 percent milk
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 2 cups freshly-brewed strong coffee
- Cinnamon or grated chocolate, if desired

Place milk in 2-cup glass measuring cup. Microwave on high power about 2 minutes 20 seconds until hot.

Place hot milk and sugar in blender container. Cover with vented lid. Blend about 1 minute until frothy.

To serve, divide coffee among 4 cups. Top each with frothy milk. Sprinkle with cinnamon.

TANGERINE GEL

- 1 tbs. gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- Sugar substitute equivalent to 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup fresh orange juice
- 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
- 2 medium tangerines

Soak gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and sweetener. Stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Add orange and lemon juice. Mix well. Refrigerate, covered, until consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Peel and segment tangerines, removing white membrane. Cut segments in 2 or 3 pieces and measure 1 cup.

When gel is partially set, gently fold in fruit. Turn into serving bowl or five (1/2-cup) dessert dishes. Refrigerate, covered, 2 to 3 hours until gelatin is set.

HOW TO ### PLACE AN AD

There are four easy ways to place your ad. BRING IT: 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City, IL 62040. PHONE IT: Call 877-7700 or dial 876-2000. Phone lines are open from 8 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. FAX IT: Send your ad directly to our Classified Fax Center at 618-876-4240. We'll call you back for confirmation. MAIL IT: Send your ads to: Classified, Granite City Press Record Journal, 1815 Delmar, Granite City, IL 62040.

PAY FOR AN AD
You will be billed immediately following last run day. You may pay in person, through the mail, or over the phone or fax. We accept cash, checks and credit cards (MC/Visa/Discover). When paying over the phone, have your credit card ready. When faxing your ad, just include your credit card number. We'll call you back for confirmation. Please do not send cash through the mail. Some ads require prepayment.

WRITE AN AD
Capture the reader's attention with larger headlines, bold type, and symbols. Tell them up front what you're selling or seeking. Describe what is unique about your item, adding details such as color and condition. Avoid abbreviations; they make your ad harder to read and therefore less effective. Include your phone number and the hours you are available. Always include the price; it will increase your responses.

CANCEL AN AD
Deadlines for ad cancellation are identical to deadlines for ad placement. You may cancel an ad in person or over the phone. To cancel an ad, phone 877-7700.
